

COMING EVENTS cast their shadows across Chapel Hill's Kenan Stadium Saturday afternoon as the University of North Carolina football team put on a full-dress intra-squad game, and the cheering section tried out its new display card system. Already thinking about that Texas game next September, the students spelled out a welcome for Tex Beneke, who played for the dances. In September the -AS will be added. When it got down to football Dick Bunting (lower left)

Special News Photos by Hugh Morton
jumped into the air to throw a pass to Art Weiner as Merl Norcross tried to stop him, and Offensive Star Charlie Justice went on defense to haul down End Ed Washington (lower right) after the Kannapolis boy had taken a pass from Bill Maceyko for a long gain. While Head Coach Carl Snavely sat in the stands, Justice's White Team defeated the Blues 35-7. Justice threw three touchdown passes.